REMARKS

Responsive to a Settlement Agreement between Opposer and Applicant in Opposition proceeding No. 91/209263, Applicant has agreed to amend the Identification of Goods (and Opposer has agreed to the Amendment) as currently on file in the above-referenced Application.

This Amendment as provided in this Motion to Amend the Identification of goods is believed by the Applicant not to expand the scope of the goods as currently existed in this Application prior to this Motion to Amend.

The Amendment in this Motion to Amend is intended to clarify that “flat panel display screens” are among Applicant’s goods and while such may be component parts of “cell phones, mobile phones and smart phones,” Applicant’s goods do not include “cell phones, mobile phones and smart phones” themselves.

By this Amendment, the Goods have been amended to read: “Video screens; computer notebook screens; tablet computer screens; flat panel display screens for GPS navigation machines, personal digital assistants, on-board driving monitors and recorders; OLED displays; electronic billboards for outdoor exhibition and advertising; flat panel display screens; liquid crystal display screens; liquid crystal display monitors; liquid crystal display televisions; large-screen LCD displays; home theater products, namely, televisions, surround sound systems, amplifiers, media players using LCD displays; light emitting diode displays” in International Class 9. Opposer consents to this Amendment.

It is respectfully requested that this motion to Amend be entered and the parties request that the Opposition be suspended pending action by the Board. The parties have further agreed that once this Amendment is entered Opposer will withdraw Opposition No. 91/209263.

Respectfully submitted,
